VOL. VII.....NO. 2144. NEW-YORK, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 4, 1858. PRICE TWO CENTS.

be compelled to expose if he must now proceed to the cross-examination.

The Recorder smoothed the difficulty by stating to Mr. Ashmead that he must proceed with the cross-examination of the Mayor at once, on the principal charge as to the truth or falsity of the statements in the alleged libel, but might omit if he pleased, for the present time, all matters having a collateral bearing.

Mr. Ashmead accordingly proceeded with the cross-examination of the Mayor.

Cross-examined—I was a Governor of the Almshouse three years; Mr. Draper was also a Governor during a part of my time; so was Mr. Bell; Mrs. Lee was Matron while I was there; the Assistant-Matron was Mrs. Bottner; I was acquainted with her, but not before I was Governor; I have read the article in the Alligator; it is false—not entirely false; there are some portions based on truth; all that portion read to the Jury by Mr. Sedgwick, is false; of that portion which was not read, and which has not yet been put in evidence, there is a basis of truth.

Mr. Ashmead read the balance of the article to the Jury, so that it might be but in evidence.

Draper Tiemann—In the first place, this person (the "friend" mentioned in the article) was visiting the Island every week; I do not know his name; this lady told me that her son was out West, and wanted to come to the City; she asked me to lend her $40 to bring him on; I lent her the money as I have lent other women on the Island; all the truth in the story about the dress is this, that I gave her $6 to repair a dress that my son spoiled in treading on it; I never gave her any jewelry, nor any furniture, nor any money to buy it with.

Q.—You say you gave her $40?

Mayor Tiemann—I said I lent it to her.

Q.—Well, you lentit. Did you ever lend her any any other money? A.—On two occasions I did; I lent her $18; I think it was to send her mother away into the country; and another time $10—I don't know what for.

Q.—You say about furniture—that you never bought her any, or gave her money to buy it with? A.—I did not; when I left the Island her room was more poorly furnished, I believe, than that of any other matron; it is customary for the Governors occasionally to go into the matrons' rooms to see if any furniture is wanted; I have been into this Assistant-Matron's room perhaps once or twice a month; I did not go into her chamber, only into her sitting-room; I do not remember going into her chamber at any time; I never took any liberties with her; I never kissed her or sought to do so; I don't know that I know a gentleman named John Waters; I might know him if I saw him; I never told anybody I'd kissed Mrs. Bottner; there was a person who came to me from her for whom she wanted an appointment to some situation; I told him I would use my interest to get him a situation, but I never told him that he must keep quiet as to who sent him to me; I never said he must not tell who sent him; I never told him if he did it would destroy my chances to be elected Mayor.

Q.—Did any of the Governors of the Almshouse inquire of you in respect to any intimacy with the Assistant Matron long before the publication of the alleged libel, and did you enter into any explanation in respect to it?

Objected to by Mr. Sedgwick, on the ground that it would be hearsay testimony. Sustained by the Recorder. Exception taken by Mr. Ashmead.

Cross examination resumed—I had a conversation with this matron since the publication of the libel, but it was in the presence of other parties; these were Mr. Tappan, the Warden, Governors Smith, Bell and Draper; I saw her twice, but always in the presence of other parties.

Q.—This article charges you with procuring a place for her boy. Did you do so? A.—I did; and I have done so for others; it was a part of my duty to procure places for boys on the island.

Q—You say that you interdicted from coming into the Island a party who in this article is called a "friend." Do you know his name? A.—I do not; Governor Pinckney spoke to me once about my intimacy with this matron; it was a year ago, he said a man had been to him with a curious story about my intimacy in this matter. He asked me if there was any truth in it; I told him no; I don't remember that I never told anybody that I had taken any liberities with her or kissed her. (To Mr. McKeon)—I was Chairman of a Committee on Randall's Island, and it was a part of my duty to find places for the boys of the Island as well as the matron's boys; the matron's rooms are furnished by the Governors; when a piece of furniture is wanted an application is made to the Governors and is referred to the Committee with power to investigate whether it is necessary; if necessary, it is then furnished by the Committee, if not, it is procured by the Matrons at their own expense; a large amount of Committee business devolved on me as Chairman of the Committee; I was constantly busy, and generally in the company of the Warden; I had very little time to accomplish anything that is set forth in this libel.

The next witness was Simeon Draper. He was examined by Mr. Sedgwick. He said that he had been a Governor of the Almshouse from May, 1849, to January, 1857; Mr. Bell was a Governor in 1856; he was now a Supervisor.

Cross-examined by Mr. Ashmead—I read the article in the Alligator the day that it was published; as far as I know it is a LIE.

Mr. Ashmead here indignantly called the witness to order, for the want of courtesy which he had displayed in the use of the word "LIE."

Mr. Draper said he knew what he was about.

The Recorder said Mr. Draper was too old a hand to be taken unawares.

Mr. Ashmead still insisted that the word was very uncourteous.

Gov. Draper responded that he knew no difference between a lie and a falsehood. He then proceeded with his testimony. The Assistant-Matron was suspended but not dismissed; I suspended her myself; she was reinstated; Mr. Tiemann I believe suggested to her that she had better write an apologetic letter; she had three orphan children, and he thought that the Governors ought to overlook her offence; that offence was simply a neglect of duty; the Governors, in inspecting the buildings, have often to pass through were a matron sleeps to get to where she does her cooking; this may occur about once a week; Mrs. Bottner's furniture is about the same as the other matrons'; I have passed through her chamber, but never tarried there a minute; I've remained in her sitting-room five minutes at a time perhaps; the statement in Branch's article about me is all humbug; every person that I met suggested to me that it was time to stop such attacks on private character; when I had read it I wrote Mayor Tiemann a letter stating that Branch was either a lunatic who should be secured in an asylum, or a scoundrel who should be sent to the Penitentiary; I afterwards saw Mayor Tiemann and swore to an affidavit; I was not examined before the Grand Jury.

Mr. Sedgwick here said that the case for the prosecution was closed, but reserved his right to call Governor Bell, if he should appear in Court.

The case for the defence was then commenced.

John Weaver, examined by Mr. Ashmead—I know Mayor Tiemann; I have known him a year ago last March; I have known Charlotte Bottner, Assistant Matron of Randall's Island, two years and a half; she once sent me with a note to Mayor Tiemann; he was not Mayor then; it was a year ago last March; he was one of the Governors of the Almshouse then; I took the note to Mr. Tiemann's store; Mr. Tiemann was there the second time I called, but not the first; the note was simply a direction to the number of his store, as he wanted to see me; I told him I was the gentleman Mrs. Bottner was speaking of; I wanted a situation on the Island as Warden; he said there were no vacancies, but he would get me a situation in the Custom-House; I said I would rather have a situation on the Island, and he replied that he would give me the first chance there was, and that he would do it for Mrs. Bottner's sake, but that I must not tell that I got acquainted with him through her, but must be sure to mention somebody else's name; I did not see Mr. Tiemann again till the fall, when I called on him again about a situation on the Island; he then said he would give me the first chance, and cautioned me again not to tell how I got acquainted with him; he did not give me a situation, but gave me a letter to Mr. Morton, the City Inspector, telling me not to show his note to anybody except Mr. Morton; this was before the Mayor's election; Mr. Morton said he couldn't do anything till after the Mayor took his seat; I called after that again; he said he could do nothing for me; I saw Mayor Tiemann just before his election; he told me that Governor Pinckney had heard something concerning him and Mrs. Bottner, and told me again not to mention her name to anybody, and if I was all right in my secrecy, I should certainly have a situation; I told him I would not say anything about it.

Q.—Had you any conversation with Mrs. Bottner? Objected to by Mr. Sedgwick. Question allowed.

A.—Yes; in relation to Mayor Tiemann.

Q.—Did you communicate what you learned from her to Mr. Branch?

Objected to by Mr. Sedgwick, and overruled by the Court.

Mr. Ashmead argued that such testimony was of very great importance, inasmuch as it would show that Mr. Branch had been informed that the statements which he published were false, and that they would clear him from the charge of any malicious design, or from that of pure fabrication, if he had already been ruled that such testimony was proper.

The Recorder—The importance of a ruling in any Court depends on the Judge who rules it; you refer to this Court; I say so especially; my ruling I will again sustain it; but if anybody else ruled it, I will rule it out.

Mr. Ashmead—Your Honor, that's candid; you may be right, and everybody else wrong. Mr. Ashmead proceeded to comment that the testimony was most proper, when the Recorder replied that any Judge who could so rule was unfit not only to sit in a Court of this City, but in any justice's court among the Knickerbockers.

Mr. Ashmead then reduced his proposition to writing, as follows:

"I propose to show that the witness had a conversation with the defendant, and stated to him that he had received a narrative of certain occurrences from Mrs. Bottner, which had taken place between Mayor Tiemann and Miss Bottner, which he communicated to the defendant, and which the defendant published in his newspaper, and form the contents of the libel, and which evidence defendant offers for the purpose of proving the absence of a criminal mind, and to show the want of malice."

This was overruled by the Court, and an exception taken by Mr. Ashmead.

The witness was then cross-examined by Mr. McKeon, principally as to his whereabouts for the last eleven years, and as to his present means of getting a living. He was rather confused in his answers, but, on the whole, did not suffer much. He seemed from his own testimony to have been somewhat irregular in his modes of life.

Ann Price was the next witness. She said she had been intimate with Mrs. Bottner for a long time.

Mr. Ashmead explained to the Court that his object in introducing her was to show that Mrs. Bottner had told her what was asserted in the libel, and that she had told Mr. Branch. As the Court, however, had overruled this testimony in the case of the last witness, he (Mr. Ashmead) had nothing to do but to draw His Honor's attention to this testimony, which would, of course, be overruled, and he would take an exception.

His Honor overruled the testimony, and an exception was taken.

On cross-examination, this lady stated that the last witness (Waters) was her brother.

George S. Ivens, was next called to the stand.

Mr. Ashmead said that he offered to prove by him that Mrs Bottner had told him all that was contained in the libel, and that he had told it to Mr. Branch.

The Recorder overruled this testimony as in the previous cases, on the ground that it was hearsay evidence, and Mr. Ashmead then took an exception.

The witness then being examined as to other points said: I have known Mrs. Bottner about three years; she is assistant matron of Randall's Island; I was in the habit of going to visit her; I had to cease my visits; I was prevented from going there by the captain of the boat that communicates with the Island.

Q.—What reason did the Captain give you for refusing to take you any longer to the Island?

Objected to by Mr. Sedgwick. Objection sustained by the Court. Exception taken by Mr. Ashmead.

Cross-examined—I am an expressman, and have been so eight or nine years; my office is at No. 50 Broadway; I went to the Island sometimes once and sometimes twice a week; I have a family—a wife and two children; I reside at No. 19 Norfolk-street; I know Mr. Branch, and have done so for a month or so; I have never been to his office; I have met him on the street; also at No. 6 Attorney-street; I have met him in public houses within the last week; this was at the corner of Essex and Grand; I have read the libel; I saw him in Grand-street after the publication of the libel; I saw him before the publication in Attorney-street; I have spoken to him both before and after the publication; I have known Waters for about two years, but am no connection of his; I have visited Waters and his sisters within the last two years quite often; our families are not intimate; they do not know each other; I never was at his shop, and don't know where it is.

Mr. Ashmead stated that he here closed the defendant's case.

ADDITIONAL TESTIMONY FOR THE PROSECUTION.

Mayor Tiemann, recalled—I heard the testimony of Waters with regard to an interview that he said I had with him.

The Recorder read the testimony of the Mayor at the request of counsel.

Mr. Ashmead objected to the reintroduction of the Mayor, he having already distinctly stated that he had never met Waters.

The Recorder thought it was but fair to allow the Mayor an opportunity to explain himself. It was matter of discretion with the Court.

Mr. McKeon wished to show that the witness Waters had stated a direct falsehood, and that he had never met the Mayor in the Park, as he had said. (Question allowed, and exception taken.)

Mayor Tiemann—I never had any such conversation with him; I could have very easily have given him an office if I had desired to stop his tongue.

Isaac Bell, examined by Mr. Sedgwick—I was one of the Governors in 1856; I am now Supervisor; I have read the libel in question, and there is not one particle of truth in it as far as regards myself.

Mayor Tiemann a second time recalled—There is no truth in Waters' statement that I told him to keep secret that Mrs Bottner sent him to me; I never directly or indirectly intimated to him that it must be kept quiet.

The evidence on both sides being here closed, the Court adjourned till this morning. Mr. Sylvester S. Southworth, proprietor of the Sunday Mercury, who was Branch's bondsman on this charge, announced that he had canceled the bonds and surrendered him. A Mr. Tinn, of Hammersley-street, was proposed in his stead by Branch, but rejected by the Court as unqualified. Branch was given in charge of an officer, but subsequently found bail, and went on his way rejoicing. How it will fare with him to-day remains to be seen.

Sea and Ship News.

LATEST FROM THE LOWER BAY—THE SHIP SWALLOW AND HER CAPTAIN.—The ferry-boat Cinderella did not make her regular trip yesterday to the Lower Quarantine, in consequence of the storm and heavy sea in the bay. There are now 50 sail of vessels at that station, conspicuous among which are the splendid clippers Swallow and Competitor. The Swallow arrived at this port from Havana, July 23, in ballast, having been absent from the States since June 17, 1854, when she sailed hence for London, and made the run in 15 days. She has been once to Australia, once to India, and three voyages to China, during the four years of her absence. Her passage from Shanghae to London occupied 96 days. On her final voyage from here to Havana, she took in 650 passengers, and landed in good health 642 of them, eight only having died on the voyage, which, considering the incompetency of the physicians on board, speaks well for the cleanliness of the ship. It is worthy of remark, that during the entire four years she has not cost her owners one dollar for repairs of damages. She was built in East Boston, and is owned in part by Captain TUCKER, who superintended her construction, and is her commander, and who, by the way, is as fine a specimen of the American seaman and gentleman as can be found.

While lying in the port of Shanghae, he was styled the Commodore by the American ship-masters in the port, and, on his sailing from thence, was saluted with a gun from every American vessel in the harbor, for which one in return for each was given by the Swallow. On the Fourth of July, in Havana, Captain TUCKER performed a feat which rather astonished the natives, as it was never before done by any merchant-vessel in that port. It being Independence day, the idea occurred to him of firing a National salute, and, accordingly, having two long twelves on board, at meridian, his chief officer, Mr. MORTON, opened the ports and blazed away. The United States sloop-of-war Jamestown, Commander C. H. KENNEDY, being outside the harbor, came in near to the Moro Castle and returned the salute. The Governor of the Island expressed his pleasure, and at the same time his surprise at the discipline necessary for such a performance on board a merchantman. The Swallow will probably be allowed to come up to the city in a few days.

A NEW STEAMER FOR CENTRAL AMERICA.—The Panama Railroad Company on Monday contracted for the building of a new steamer, to run in connection with the steamer Columbus, from Panama to San José de Guatemala, and stopping at intermediate ports. They are now under a contract with the several Central American States for the conveyance of the mails. Heretofore these mails have always been made up at the office of the American Consul in Panama. Hereafter the Columbus will not touch at San Juan del Sur, but only at the ports of Punta Arenas, Realejo, La Union, La Libertad, Acajutla, and San José de Guatemala. The Panama Railroad Company has recently made contracts with the following governments for the transportation of the mails between Panama and the above named ports: Costa Rica, San Salvador and Guatemala; and hereafter the mails will be made up at Panama, at the respective consulates of the republics.

The Liverpool, New-York and Philadelphia steamship Company have purchased the steamship Vigo, 2,000 tons, to ply between New-York and Liverpool, in their long established line. She sailed from Liverpool on the 21st ult., and arrived at this port last evening. She takes the place of the City of Baltimore, which vessel was detained in Halifax by an accident to her machinery. She has superior accommodations for passengers, and will sail for Liverpool on the 12th inst.

We have received Supplement No. 4, for Aug. 2, being additions and corrections to the New-York Marine Register, by R. C. ROSS, ASTHONY & Co. Also, No. 2, for Aug. 1, of the Supplement, giving additions and corrections to the New-York Marine Register, or American Lloyds, published by Messrs. TAYSON, HARRISON & KING.

The squadron of the New-York Yacht Club rendezvous at Whitestone to-morrow, the 4th of August, under the command of Com. EDGAR. They thence proceed up the Sound to Newport, stopping probably at New-London on the way. At Newport, they will receive upon their further progress. Among other places, Nahant and Boston are talked of, but nothing will be determined upon till their arrival at Newport. Bremen Line, which was advertised to sail on the 17th of July is now in her fourteenth day, and is fully due at this port.

ARRAIGNMENT ON A CHARGE OF BURNING A SHIP AT SEA.—CONRAD ENNEL, ALONZO WORDEN, AUGUSTUS HARMON and GEORGE E. AUSTIN, the four seamen charged with setting fire to the whaling ship Cortez, at sea, were brought before United States Commissioner A. L. CUSHMAN, in Boston, on Monday morning, and pleaded not guilty to the charge. In the absence of United States District-Attorney WOODBURY, their examination was postponed until Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, and until that time they were committed to jail.—Boston Journal.

The hull of the American vessel Gilchrist, in ballast from Liverpool, took place at Hayre, was sold by auction in that port for 12,500 francs.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The New-York Custom-House Appointments—Presidential Movements—Remodeling the Executive Departments—The Missouri Election, &c.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, Aug. 3.

Lord NAPIER held a protracted conference with Secretary CASS to-day, and altered slightly his dispatches to Governor DOUGLAS, to be forwarded by Mr. NUGENT. His lordship also inquired anxiously after the new Minister from Nicaragua, who is now closeted with Gen. YRIARTE in Brooklyn. Lord NAPIER leaves here to-morrow for Newport.

Secretary CASS will dispose of the New-York Custom-House appointments and removals to-morrow. There are about twenty changes to be made, including clerks, assistant inspectors and weighers.

Senor MOLINO left yesterday for New-York, to be absent several weeks.

Postmaster-General BROWN is expected home to-morrow.

The enormous receipts at the New-York Custom-House ($200,000) on Saturday, and the previous gradual increase, satisfies Secretary CASS that he will not have to negotiate the ten millions of the authorized loan not yet advertised. The ten millions for which proposals have been asked, will be negotiated as advertised.

The movements of the several Presidential candidates now feeling the popular pulse in the Northwest, are anxiously watched here by the "can't-get-away" aspirants. Senator SLIDELL, Senator BRIGHT, and the Hon. A. H. STEPHENS, are trying their luck on the broad prairies towards sunset, while General JEFF DAVIS has been making considerable headway among the down-easters.

I understand that there is a plan on foot here for remodeling the Executive Departments of the Government and abolishing the bureau system. The present enormous expenditures of the Federal Government are said to be attributable principally to the bureau system, the heads of which estimate their relative importance by the amount of money they can spend.

The returns from the Missouri elections are anxiously looked for here, and particularly from the St. Louis district. The effort to defeat F. P. BLAIR, Jr., has been one which enlisted strongly the sympathies of Mr. BUCHANAN and many of the old political associates of his father. Q.

[FROM THE REPORTER FOR THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, Aug. 3.

Mr. G. P. R. JAMES, British Consul at Norfolk, has been tendered the appointment of Consul General at Venice, which he probably will accept.

The Postmaster-General returns here next week.

The following named officers have been ordered to the frigate Sabine, which is to be the flag-ship of the Brazil Squadron: Commander THORBURN; Lieutenants Woodhull, McDonough, Creighton, Gibson, Newman, McCann; Fleet Surgeon, Greene; Passed Assistant Surgeon, Harrison; Assistant-Surgeon, Bertolette; Purser, Steele; Master, Bradford; Chaplain, John Blake; Boatswain, Atkinson; Gunner, Cooper; Sailmaker, Jones.

The following officers are ordered to the sloop-of-war Cyane, fitting for the Pacific Squadron: Commander—LOCKWOOD. Lieutenants—Bryant, Lowrey, Livingston, McCartney. Surgeon—Williams. Assistant-Surgeon—Leniug. Purser—Murray. Master—Buchanan. Acting Boatswain—Brisco. Assistant-Gunner—Willeit. Carpenter—Knight. Sailmaker—Boutwell.

Commanders THORBURN and LOCKWOOD were affected by the Naval Retiring Board, but afterwards were restored to the active list.

The Colored Convention at New-Bedford.

NEW-BEDFORD, Tuesday, Aug. 3.

The Colored Convention closed at 1 o'clock today. Resolutions were adopted for a law against the return of fugitive slaves; against the emigration of free colored persons, and in favor of sending colored children to the public schools; also, recommending the harboring of fugitive slaves, and of vigilance to avoid imposition. Mr. REMOND moved the appointment of a Committee of five to draft an address to the Slaves of the South, recommending them to rise in their might and majesty for their own freedom. A warm discussion ensued and the motion was lost by a very small majority.

Michigan Military State Convention—Injury to Senator Chandler.

DETROIT, Mich., Tuesday, Aug. 3.

A State Military Convention assembled here today for the purpose of adopting measures to secure the passage of laws giving proper encouragement to the formation of independent military companies.

Senator CHANDLER was seriously, though, it is believed, not dangerously injured, by the explosion of gas at his residence in this city, last evening.

Kentucky Election.

LOUISVILLE, Monday, Aug 2.

In the city proper, the American Judge of the Court of Appeals has 228 majority; and the American Clerk, 200. The American county officers are probably all elected by small majorities. Polls generally quiet. Capt. ROGERS was dangerously wounded by a pistol shot while in a fight with Dr. STANDIFORD. The difficulty rose partly from an old grudge, and partly from political feeling.

Supposed Slaver at Savannah.

AUGUSTA, Ga., Tuesday, August 3.

The Savannah papers of this morning state that the bark Rawlings has arrived at the Quarantine ground without papers, reporting herself from the Coast of Africa. Rumors are current that she has landed a cargo of Africans either on the coast of Cuba or Texas.

Navigation of the Canal by Steam.

BUFFALO, Tuesday, Aug. 3.

The new steam canal-boat P. L. Sternberg, being the second one out, left here this afternoon for Rochester with a load of wheat. She makes about five miles an hour, and will return here on Friday next with the Governor, Canal Commissioners and other officials.

The Canadian Parliament.

TORONTO, Tuesday, Aug. 3.

A third motion of want of confidence in Mr. BROWN'S new Ministry, was carried in the House of Assembly last night. A dissolution of Parliament is expected.

Movements of Southern Ocean Steamers.

CHARLESTON, Tuesday, Aug. 3.

The United States Mail steamship Nashville, Capt. MURRAY, arrived from New-York at 10 o'clock last night.

The screw-steamship Memphis, of CROMWELL'S Line, arrived here at 10 o'clock this morning.

The Weather at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Tuesday, Aug. 3.

A very heavy rain-storm, with which we were visited this afternoon, completely flooded the streets.

Navals.

BOSTON, Tuesday, Aug. 3.

The United States sloop-of-war Constellation from Key West, arrived to-day.

Arrival of the U. S. Sloop Jamestown.

The Jamestown, Commander KENNEDY, which has been long cruising in the Gulf, and whose crew had become very much enfeebled by their exposures to a tropical climate, arrived yesterday. She sailed from Key West on the 26th ult. The following is a list of her officers: C. H. KENNEDY, Commander; Geo. B. Balch, Samuel Edwards, John W. Bennett, Stephen B. Luce, Elias K. Owens, Lieutenants; Marius Duval, Surgeon; Thomas J. Charlton, Assistant Surgeon; Edward Dunn, Purser; Thomas S. Burnes, Master; Washington Irving, Jr., Captain's Clerk; Joseph A. Bott, Purser's Clerk; C. G. McCawley, First Lieutenant Marines; Wm. Lavery, Acting Boatswain; Benj. Bunker, Gunner; H. M. Loury, Carpenter; Robt. Hunter, Acting Sailmaker.

The only sickness on board are a few cases of fever and ague. She has not lost a man during the cruise, and there was but one case of yellow fever, and he recovered.

ARRIVAL OF THE PERSIA.

Final Passage of the Oaths Bill through the House of Commons.

PASSAGE OF THE INDIA BILL.

THE TELEGRAPHIC ENTERPRISE.

Further Outbreaks in Asiatic Turkey.

OPERATIONS IN INDIA AND CHINA.

Cotton and Breadstuffs Dull—Provisions Drooping.

The Royal Mail steamer Persia, C. H. R. JUDKINS, Esq., commander, from Liverpool at 9 o'clock on Saturday, the 24th ult., arrived at this port yesterday morning.

The steamship City of Baltimore, from Halifax on the 11th July, arrived out at Liverpool at 11 o'clock P. M. on the 22d.

The Ariel, from New-York, arrived at Southampton on the morning of the 23d.

The screw-steamship Vigo took the place of the City of Baltimore, and sailed from Liverpool for New-York on the 21st of July.

The news by the Persia is of considerable importance.

On the 21st of July, in the House of Commons, the bill from the Lords, which admits Jews into Parliament, was finally passed, by a vote of 129 to 55.

The proceedings in the House of Lords on the 21st and 22d were unimportant.

In the House of Commons, on the 22d, a debate took place between Sir C. G. LEWIS and Mr. DISRAELI on the financial condition of the country. The former showed that the appropriations were considerably in excess of the estimated revenue for the year, and the latter explained that the actual receipts were largely in excess of his estimates, and fully justified the appropriations that had been made. He believed that the finances of the country had never been in a more healthy condition than at present.

In reply to an inquiry, Mr. A. S. FITZGERALD stated that the war-steamer Cyclops was on her way to Djidda, to demand ample compensation, and insist on the punishment of the parties concerned in the recent outbreak. The Cyclops was so heavily armed that she could execute any service. The Porte was notified that it was not sufficient to send a Pacha to Djidda, but measures must be taken to vindicate British prestige in the East. The Sultan had expressed his indignation at the outrage, and his firm determination to exact exemplary punishment for it. He had also placed at the disposal of the British Minister at Constantinople, 50,000 piastres, and announced his intention to confer a pension of upwards of £400 on the daughter of the French Vice-Consul, and the representative of the English Vice-Consul. The Pacha sent to Djidda was armed with full powers to act without a reference to Constantinople, and to declare martial law if necessary.

On the 23d, in the House of Lords, the bill legalizing marriage with a deceased wife's sister was rejected by a majority of 24.

The India bill was finally passed. The Archbishop of CANTERBURY expressed a hope that in future the distinctions of caste in India would cease to exist.

The Earl of DERBY said Government would give indiscriminate and impartial protection to all creeds and religions, but would give no material assistance to any measure for converting the natives. He thought it would be most undesirable to attempt to remove the distinctions of caste, which were so interwoven with the principles and feelings of the Hindoo.

In the House of Commons, Lord STANLEY stated that between January and the 20th of July, 17,000 troops had been sent to India. He added that Government was well aware of the great importance of striking an effective and final blow at the insurgents in the course of the ensuing cold season.

Mr. FORTESCUE asked Government whether they intended to adhere to, or depart from, the policy of their predecessors, with respect to the right of visiting ships suspected of slave-trading, and asked what course they intended to pursue on that subject.

Mr. FITZGERALD replied that the matter was under the consideration of Government, but he could not be expected to state what course they would take under circumstances which had not yet occurred. He had, however, every hope and belief, from the language of the American Government and the American Ambassador, that the matter would shortly arrive at a satisfactory conclusion.

Lord PALMERSTON considered this reply unsatisfactory. More information ought to be given. From what had been stated by the United States Minister, he concluded there had been some completed transaction. He therefore asked what pretension had been given up, or what right conceded?

Mr. DISRAELI said there had been communications between the two Governments respecting the alleged acts of British cruisers, and these communications are now in abeyance. During that abeyance, the Government of the United States had made a friendly overture that Her Majesty's Government should offer to the United States a plan for their consideration, which should accomplish all the objects that both Governments had in view, namely, to put down the Slave-trade without producing misunderstandings. Her Majesty's Government had accepted that offer, and they were now engaged in the consideration of a plan which they believed would satisfactorially accomplish all the objects that both parties desired.

The Ministerial White-bait Dinner, at Greenwich, anticipative of the adjournment of Parliament, was to take place on the day that the Persia sailed.

The special correspondent of the London Times, writing on board the Agamemnon before the departure of the Atlantic Telegraph fleet on their final attempt to submerge the cable, complains bitterly of injurious statements spread abroad from the Niagara in regard to the conduct of the crew of the Agamemnon during the fearful storm which she encountered. He denounces all such rumors as utterly false, and eulogizes the bravery which was evinced during the trying period. In the same letter the writer pronounces a wire-covered cable wholly unfit for a submarine telegraph across the Atlantic, and suggests that a thin copper wire covered with gutta-percha and greased yarn, and weighing only about one-fourth of the present cable, is the kind of thing to hope for success with.

A scandalous paragraph, to the effect that Sir FITZROY KELLY, Attorney-General of England, had secretly married his dairymaid, having been circulated, that gentleman writes to the papers contradicting the story and pronouncing it little else than a tissue of falsehoods.

The Show of the Royal Agricultural Society of England, at Chester, had passed off with great éclat.

A grand banquet had been given in Galway to the Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland, in celebration of the establishment of a transatlantic line of steam-are from the port of Galway. Mr. LEVERETT was most warmly received, and in returning thanks he gave details of his efforts to secure a first-class steamer to sail from Galway. He had offered to buy the Arabia, the Alert, which was coming from Glasgow, was the fastest steamer in the world. He hoped that the people of Ireland would speak well and encourage the project, and he was certain of its success from its many advantages. When he proved the route was the quickest, they would command the English and American mails.

A letter from Galway, published in one of the Dublin journals, gives the following account of the death, under suspicious circumstances, of one of the pilots who ran the Indian Empire ashore upon the St. Marguerite Rock in Galway Bay:

"The trial of the Galway pilots for running the Indian Empire on the St. Marguerite Rock did not take place at this assizes, owing to the non-arrival of that vessel and the consequent absence of the witnesses. The town Grand Jury had been discharged until this evening, at the desire of the Court. The pilots, however, did not know the moment the ship would arrive, and Messrs. (one Englishman) had been active in preparing for his defence. He had been getting a statement of the facts ready to be transferred to counsel, and was observed to be very low in spirits. A rumor was caused in town, to-day, by a report that the unfortunate man had destroyed himself, and that he is dead is too true. He was found right but still warm, and the belief is that he took strychnine. Nothing, however, is yet known. The Crown Solicitor is engaged in the inquiry, and an inquest will be held to-morrow. The prisoner, I understand, has been removed to be employed."

CHARLES HARDINGTON, Esq., a leading merchant of Liverpool, agent for the banking house of GEORGE PEABODY, fell dead suddenly in the street on the 23d ult., from a stroke of apoplexy.

The Bank returns, as published in Friday evening's Gazette, show an increase of £314,272 in the amount of bullion, £35,000 in rest, £262,564 in public deposits, and £91,470 in other deposits. There was also an increase in the reserve of notes of £548,730. There was a decrease of £177,730 in the active calculation of notes, and of £45,940 in seven day and other bills.

La Presse announces that the crew of the French ship Marie Caroline have been murdered and the ship burnt on the coast of Madagascar. It appears that she went to the Island to take free laborers for the French colonies, which one of the Madagascar chiefs promised to supply. When the Captain went on shore to receive them he was treacherously murdered.

Private accounts from Naples of the 13th, state that on the 9th a corporal of marines being in the act of relieving a guard in the interior of the palace, saw his lieutenant pass, and forthwith shot him dead. The act was committed by the corporal in revenge for a slap in the face given him by the lieutenant a few days previously. The man was tried by court-martial the following day, and sentenced to be hung. The sentence was executed on the 10th, in front of the prison of San Francisco, in presence of not less than 50,000 people.

The Ost-Deutsche Post learns, from its Constantinople correspondent, that the Russians have received a very severe check in Daghestan and Leghistan. With 5,000 regulars, 10,000 irregulars, two heavy and as many light field batteries, they last month attempted to obtain possession of some [illegible] important defiles near Kooloo Kote. The place mentioned was taken by storm by [illegible] talions and 6,000 irregulars, and Sultan Daniun, and his followers retreated in disorder. The Russians, being elated by their victory, entered the pass, and, while cooking, were surprised by the mountaineers. After losing 1,800 men and eight guns, the Russians retreated in the greatest disorder to Kizzar, but they could not maintain their position there, and fell back on Scirvan.

A Marseilles telegram says: "A serious revolutionary movement has broken out among the Christian population of Syria. It is said that Tripoli and Latakia are in a state of insurrection."

In Candia the Christians had either barricaded themselves or taken flight.

A telegraphic dispatch from Constantinople of the 16th announces that in consequence of KAMIL EFFENDI, the Turkish Commissioner in Herzegovina, having received the submission of the insurgents, orders had been sent to withdraw the troops. Some of them were to return by sea to Constantinople, and the remainder to go into Russia, where their presence appears necessary from disturbances continuing there. The Augsburg Gazette publishes a letter which contains details on the state of that country, which, it is to be hoped, are greatly exaggerated. The following are some of the principal passages:

It was mentioned about a fortnight ago that the Beys of Unna, Verbas and La Bosna had prepared a blow against the Christians, for having dared to send a deputation to Vienna. This becoming known, KIAMI PACHA, the Commissioner of the Porte, went to Travnik to endeavor to bring about an arrangement. Unfortunately, his efforts were unsuccessful. It may be remembered that a general levy was made about six weeks ago. A body of 12,000 Bosniac Mussulmans have been ready that time under arms, furious at the defeat of Grahowo, desirous of avenging that disaster, and anxiously waiting for an order to advance. Under these circumstances, the irritation increased every day. The Christians of Bosnia being without arms, the Beys resolved to delay no longer. On the 26th, 27th and 28th June, they made a razzia on all the young girls in the Christian villages, and carried off about 180 from the age of 13 to 16. On the 30th June and the 2d July, the houses of the Christians and the churches were pillaged, and old men, women and children massacred. The Christians defended themselves with desperation, but, being pursued by fire and sword, sought an asylum on the Austrian territory. On the 4th and 5th they placed their wives and children in safety near Kostainica and Topola, and then, to the number of 4,700, arming themselves with pitchforks and other agricultural implements, surprised on the 6th, a body of Turks who were encamped in the open country, and having got possession of 700 muskets and pistols, recommenced the combat on the 8th. Unfortunately, they were defeated,

...FOR THE USE OF...

...ANNUAL DINNER AS A HAZARD.

...Club, at the Institute Rooms, No. 351 ...on Tuesday, at noon. Dr. WORTHINGTON be...

...Kinney, Judge Mason read from a San Fran...paper the statement that strawberries, a ...foot in diameter, and of excellent flavor, were ...in that market; that raspberries and green ...were on sale by the 24th of May; that there are ...in California not less than 10,000,000 acres of land ...adapted for the culture of grapes; that the Lake ...Blackberry is more productive in California than ...any other part of the Union. To this Mr. THOS. W. ...knew he had that such a statement might mean ...more than the San Francisco intended. He had ...travelled upon a Reaper plant in Mr. BRADISH' possession, (Hunt New-York,) 1,860 berries—or, as the berries ...130 to 140 to the quart, 13 quarts from a single hill. The Judge proceeded to quote the Society of Arts Journal concerning coffee, that it is largely ...adulterated with roasted beans, which really much ...resemble the flavor of coffee; that chickory, of which ...17,000,000 pounds are annually used in France as a ...substitute for coffee, contains 30 per cent. of sugar.

Mr. ANSON BRADISH exhibited some potatoes from ...his farm on Long Island, which were affected with ...the rot. The field had promised well until within a ...very few days, when the tops began to die. On digging ...it was found that the rot had commenced. The ...same field bore potatoes last year, of which none had ...the rot. This year he plowed the barnyard manure ...and seed-corn in the hill—so, evidently, saturating ...the hill does not cause the rot. He should not ...touch the potatoes at present, but wait till cold ...weather; he knew no other way but to wait, and, ...when the mischief is all done, save what might be ...left.

Dr. FOOT thought the lack of time and alkalies in ...the dead was the cause of the rot. Plant early, use ...no fermenting manure, but apply lime and alkalies ...freely, plow deep, and so he thought it might be ...averted from a field.

Mr. FURMAN, of Williamsburg, produced some facts ...that showed lime could not save potatoes.

Mr. T. W. FIELD thought great harm was done by ...calling "rot" as a specific and unique disease—it was the death of the potato from a score of different causes. Anything which injured the health of ...the potato would expose it to rot—it might be an insect, it might be sudden exposure to a great heat ...while the plant was growing fast. Alkalies produced a wiry growth, which the sun would not easily affect, while recent manures started up a rapid, succulent growth, that was exceedingly susceptible to ...atmospheric changes.

Mr. WAINWRIGHT agreed that it was the effect of constitutional disease—for if it was a specific disease that ...plants while healthful would not be subject to it, as ...the insects on calves are specific, and yet well-fed ...calves never suffer from them.

Dr. FOOT exhibited a stalk of Timothy 5 feet 6 inches high, that grew on a bank of the Long Island Railroad, some 42 miles from Brooklyn, out of the soil which prejudice and ignorance still affirm to be utterly barren and only sand. A neighbor of his on the same kind of soil cut two tons and a half of Timothy from an acre which was manured just five years ago. The field had been mowed for five years successively twice a year. It had received no top-dressing, and had been pastured from the last mowing of each year until snow came. Dr. FOOT exhibited specimens of this soil taken from 16 inches below the surface, which presented an appearance almost identical with some taken from land in Flatbush valued for farming purposes at $1,500 the acre.

The next subject discussed was the value and use of marsh muck, salt and fresh. The opinion was expressed by several gentlemen that fresh coast muck was not a whit more valuable than salt muck would be, if properly used; that neither was of much account alone, but, said Mr. FIELD, as a divisor of other substances it is invaluable. The peat needs to lay exposed to the frost one Winter, when it crumbles into a fine powder. Before this exposure it is as plastic as clay and full of woody fibre—after the exposure it cannot be made plastic. In this powdered state it is the best material that a farmer can use to compost his manures, of all sort, with. He and others reiterated the necessity of giving all manures to the land in a finely powdered state, so that the plant can avail itself of it at once. Several experiments were detailed where farmers had tried salt marsh muck, both alone and with other manures, and with the most promising results, but it was not deemed best to postpone the further consideration of the subject until the farms can be visited where it is in use, and the mud itself looked into.

The Rev. Mr. ADAMSON, Secretary of the Geographical Society of this City, gave the club some facts concerning the oxen of Southern Africa. A marked feature is their large horns, heavy fore quarters, with a hump on the shoulders. The farmers generally used fourteen oxen in a team, hitched to ponderous wagons. The general extent of a farm is five or six thousand acres, and the people think that a family can be honestly supported very well upon less land than that. The grain raised is wheat, of a good quality; the farmer sows 20 or 30 acres, and never sees that soil until it fails, and then plow up a new spot. The cattle are generally very stubborn and hard to train. They are tall and big boned, and travel with great speed. The sheep kept there are of the broad-tailed sort, the tail sometimes growing to a mass of fat of ten or twelve pounds, which is in some measure a substitute for butter with the people.

The next meeting of the Club will be on Monday, Aug. 10. The subject—Fruits suitable for the farm generally.

Police Intelligence.

THE SIXTH WARD MURDER—MORE ARRESTS—CORONER'S INQUEST.—The Police are still earnestly engaged in endeavoring to discover the parties implicated in the murder of Cornelius Rady, the old man who was killed on Saturday night, at the corner of Worth and Centre streets. John Quinlan, James Hines, Bernard Dwyer and Charles W. Glogan, have been arrested on suspicion. Coroner Gamble commenced the inquest at 11 A. M. yesterday, at the Sixth Ward Station house. The evidence points to Patrick Gilligan as the one who struck the murderous blow. Gilligan has not yet been arrested, but the Police have no doubt that they will be able speedily to effect his arrest. The following is the evidence thus far taken before the Coroner:

Dennis Doherty, sworn—The deceased was my father-in-law; last Saturday evening he came to my house, No. 86 Centre-street, on a visit, and staid till nearly twelve o'clock; as he was advanced in years, and his health poor, I started to accompany him home to his residence No. 100 Mulberry-street; on passing the corner of Mott-street, some one cried out "There comes two of the Bowery Boys, let's at them;" three fellows immediately assaulted us; I knocked one of them down, then dodged under a cart and made my escape into a house in the neighborhood; I remained about a minute in the house to see what had become of my father-in-law, when I found a large crowd gathered on the corner and my father-in-law lying insensible on the pavement; I assisted some officers of the Sixth Ward in removing him to the station house, and thence to the City Hospital, where he died a few minutes after being admitted; neither myself nor the deceased said anything to provoke the attack on us; I afterwards understood that the assailants belonged to the "Dead Rabbit" gang, and that a short time prior to the attack they had had a fight with a gang of "Bowery Boys."

Simeon Foster, sworn—I reside at No. 25 Mulberry-street, and am one of the constables of the Sixth Ward; about half past eleven o'clock last Saturday night I passed the corner of Worth and Centre streets; three young men who were standing on the corner commenced throwing potatoes at me; one of them commenced talking as though he wanted to fight me; he tried to strike me, but I dodged the blow and passed over on the opposite side of the street; a moment afterwards I saw two men come out of a store not far from the corner of Centre and Worth streets, and saw the three young men attack them as they passed by the corner; one of the young fellows was more boisterous than the others; he was a tall, slim young man, and wore a black coat and Kossuth hat; a crowd soon collected about the place, and that was all I saw; neither Byrnes, Gilligan nor Wm. McGloin were there.

Bryan Gilligan, sworn—I reside at No. 126 Worth-street, with my father and mother; on Saturday night I was on the corner of Centre and Worth streets, in company with Patrick Gilligan, Michael Kevlin, John Quinlan, and a boy, named Hines; I left them at 11 o'clock and went home; Gilligan was drunk, and struck a colored man while I was there; he was drunk and noisy; he had on a black coat, and black Kossuth hat; he is no connection of mine; I have a brother on the Sixth Ward Police; I am a paper folder, and work in the office of the NEW YORK TIMES; I saw Gilligan in Worth-street last evening.

Wm. Smith, sworn—I reside at No. 117 White-street; between 11 and 12 o'clock Saturday night, I was sitting in front of No. 89 Worth-street; Mr. Herbert told me that those persons on the other side of the street wanted to lick him; I went over to see who they were, and saw several persons beating the deceased; Patrick Gilligan was the most desperate among them; I knew him well; I told him not to kill the old man, and he immediately threatened me, upon which I slapped him in the face; Quinlan, Kevlin, and a fellow named "Billy Law" were there; the whole party set upon me, and I had all I could do to protect myself from being murdered; I saw Patrick Gilligan strike the deceased; John Quinlan was present, was among the party, and beat the deceased and myself.

John Gordon, sworn—I reside at No. 128 Worth-street; on Saturday night I was on the corner of Centre and Worth streets; Patrick Gilligan and Billy Law were there with me; Gilligan was drunk, and I endeavored to take him home; two men came by and Gilligan attempted to take hold of one of them; one of them struck Gilligan, when Gilligan struck him; a crowd soon convened and a general row ensued; I saw Gilligan again on Sunday night; he told me he was blamed for killing the old man Rady.

The Coroner here adjourned the inquest until 11 A. M. to-day, in order to allow the Police further time to obtain witnesses.

HOW POLICEMEN ENJOY THEMSELVES—HOW THEY TREAT THEIR DOGS.—Jacob Keyser and Patrick Boyle are on furlough of Hose Company No. 61, and have been on unfriendly terms for some time. On Monday evening they met in the drinking-saloon [illegible]

...contest of fisticuffs ensued, and ...soon put into a quarrel and both clinched. Two Policemen of the Nineteenth Ward were in the back room—most every low groggery in the City has a back room for similar purposes—playing cards. A special Policeman, who was present, called their attention to the fight, and requested their interference; but they refused to meddle in the affair. The special Policeman showed his shield, and endeavored to separate the combatants, when the regular Policemen at once threatened to arrest him if he did not desist. He, however, disregarded their threats, and succeeded finally in ending the fight, but not until the principals were each pretty badly damaged. The two card-playing Policemen were supposed to be on duty patrolling their respective beats when the above occurred.

PAY OF THE POLICE.—The Police received their pay for last month yesterday. There was some quaking among the Policemen, owing to a rumor that the State Comptroller, who has to sign the warrant before the money can be drawn from the bank here, was absent from Albany, and that their pay would be delayed a month in consequence.

Cricket—Canada vs. United States.

This match was resumed yesterday. Play commenced about 10:45, and although the weather was threatening, a large number of persons were on the ground at the commencement. At one time there were between two and three thousand persons present, among whom were many ladies. At the commencement of the Canadians' first innings Monday much was expected from the known strength of the Messrs. Phillips, and Rykert, on the bat, H. Phillips facing Hallis' very fast bowling and leading off for a cut for 1. Rykert following for 1. Baker bowling a maiden over from the upper end of the wicket, from whom a slip for 1. W. a maiden soon after by Rykert, who also made a drive for 1 from Hallis, before whom Phillips retired soon after with the loss of his bails; 1 wicket for 6 runs. T. Phillips followed, and he and Rykert assisted and a couple of maidens, the bowling being well on the wicket. Rykert gave a chance to Wilby at cover point from Barker, which was not taken, and was soon after bowled by a ripper from Hallis, with no increase for the score. Howard came in and led off for a cut for 1, and a cut to slip for 2 from Barker, from whom T. Phillips cut a 4 to the slip, amidst much applause, and followed it, after some defensive play, with a drive to the on for 2, from the same bowler, who revenged himself by taking the off stump; 3 wickets, 15 runs. Parsons succeeded T. Phillips—who retired with 6 to his name—when Heward made a pretty hit to leg for a 6, which was as prettily fielded and sent back for only 1 by Wilby. The next few overs some byes were made, a wide, and 1 for Parsons to the on, when he was caught from a leg swing over the shoulder by Wright at long stop; 4 wickets, 21 runs. The dispersal of this fine player depressed the spirits of the Canadians, and raised the hopes of the United States party. Hardinge—a splendid batsman—followed, and some pretty play took place, he leading off with a cut to slip for 1, and Heward 1 to short leg both from Barker. For several overs, "steady" was the word, for the bowling was not to be trifled with, wides and byes being made, when Heward made another splendid leg hit, which should have gone for 6, but was sent back by Bingham for only 1; cuts and drives for ones, which ought to have gone for threes but for the splendid fielding, and a sky-scraper from Heward for only 1 to leg,—a chance which was not taken—and Hardinge was singularly caught from Barker, the ball finely touching the shoulder of the bat and glancing from the wicket-keeper's head into the hands of Middle—4 wickets, 35 runs. Head, another fine batter, succeeded; and after some more fine and very spirited play, in which he scored 10 by 4 3's and 2 1's, Crossley was put on to bowl, and, after giving 2 wides, disposed of Head, the ball going into the wicket keeper's hands—5 wickets, 52 runs. Fearless came in, and went out for 0, by a teaser from Hallis, and Sneath took his place, Heward following with a slip for 2; several maidens succeeded, with occasional runs by Sneath, a slip for 3, by Heward from Hallis, and a splendid leg hit down the slope at the back of the Club-house. Before the second run was made so hopeless was the case, that Bingham called "lost ball," and a 6 was scored amidst enthusiastic cheers. Sneath was at length disposed of by Barker for 7 runs—8 wickets, 81 runs. Napier filled the vacancy, and was soon after disposed of by a snorter from Barker, who also bowled Fourdenier soon after; and Heward carried out his bat, after scoring 3 runs, consisting of a 6, 4-3's, 2-2's and singles. Throughout his play, Heward displayed great science, judgment and carefulness, accompanied by a dashing and humorous manner which completely won the good-will of the spectators for "the Captain," as some of the solons of the people were heard to name him. His spirit was also infused into the play of some of his fellow-cricketers. The innings, with the wides and byes, finished for 61 runs. During this innings, the fielding of the United States players was as near perfection as possible. Higham at wicket, Sharp at point, Wright at long stop, and Bingham and Wilby, alternately at long or square leg and cover point, fielded very finely; and the captainship of the field was in this match unexceptionable, and the bowling first-rate, more especially that of Hallis, which was very severe.

The usual intermission having been taken for refreshments, Sharp and Waller took their places at the wickets, to the bowling of Hardinge and Head. Hardinge, since his arrival in New York, has had a tumor removed from his foot, which was much against his usual efficiency in bowling.

The bowling of Head was not as well sustained nor as well on the wicket, and he was relieved by Parsons for a time, and afterwards by Napier and Fearless, who were, however, hit away by the superior batting of some of the U. S. cricketers. The style of playing of all our cricketers is so well known and has been criticized for so many years, that a brief allusion to the figures in the score of the U. S. Eleven will suffice; promising it by saying that the fielding of the Canadians, as well as the placing the field, was very mediocre indeed. There were some brilliant exceptions to the general wreck, and these were Hardinge and Head at the bowling, Fearless at wicket and mid-slip, and in shifting about the field according to the batters' play, was invaluable. Rykert—a splendid field at all points, but especially at long or square leg and cover-point, and frequently backing up the long stop, in fact covering more ground than any two men on the field, and saving many runs. Fourdinier played the same points on the change of the overs, but was very much interfered with by the crowd on the outside of the ground, at the upper end, preventing him fielding the ball one catch at the leg from Bingham, when he had made but a few runs on his large score, was caused by this interruption; his fielding was very fine. But the great drawback was the entire want of a wicket-keeper—those who at times put in that position acting as mid-slips, or short long stops. Many over-throws occurred, and at times, confusion seemed worse confounded. This seemed most applicable to some of the short points round the wicket, which were continually being changed and played too far out, which accounts for the number of singles—in fact—stolen runs. Sharp's score consisted of two 3s, a 2 and singles, prettily made; Bingham's, of a 5, a 4, two 3s, four 2s and singles, and was brilliantly made; Senior's, a 3, a 2 and singles; Jefferson's, a 4, a 3, three 2s and singles, and Crossley's two 2's and singles. Halless and Higham played well for their scores, and with the wides and byes the innings terminated for 147 runs, being 60 ahead of the Canadians. The latter went in for their second innings about 5 o'clock, and when the stumps were drawn they had lost 4 wickets for 72 runs. The game will be resumed again this morning at 11 o'clock. The following is the score:

Fatal Accident on the Housatonic Railroad.

On Saturday evening a dreadful accident occurred on the Housatonic Railroad. The train which left Bridgeport on that evening ran off the track near Lanesville, three miles from New-Milford.

Mr. L. A. MILLS, of Fairfield, Conn., formerly a well-known auctioneer and commission merchant in this City, was instantly killed. Four others were badly injured, viz.: Mrs. F. C. BASSETT, of Bridgeport Mrs. BRETTON, of New-York; SAMUEL C. HOSFORD, of Patterson, formerly of Fall Village, and A. L. DENNIS, Vice-President of the Naugatuck Road. Several other persons suffered slight injuries. Mr. and Mrs HARTON, of this City, were bruised; also, Mrs. STUART and Mrs. REYNOLDS, of Sing Sing. The Bridgeport Standard says:

"Mr. MILLS must have been killed outright. He was caught in the broken framework of the car, receiving several wounds, any of which must have been mortal. He was very little disfigured, the worst wound being on the back of the head."

The accident appears to have been occasioned by a cow which jumped upon the track immediately in front of the locomotive and was run over, the jar throwing the train off.

FINE REMITTED.—Justice CONNOLLY has reviewed the case of CHARLES and FRANCIS DOBSON, who were recently fined $50 for an al eged assault on an Irishman, named REYNOLDS, and has remitted the fine. Their encounter with REYNOLDS arose out of abusive language which the latter used to their brother, a conductor in a Third-avenue car, and they claim that the first blow was struck by him.

The Abolitionists Celebrate the Fall of Sumter.

On Monday, the Abolitionists celebrated the anniversary of West India Emancipation, by a Union-disolving meeting, at Milford, Mass., where OLIVER JOHNSON and LUCY GARDNER made inflammatory speeches, and resolutions of the fire-and-thunder order were adopted. One of the resolutions was remarkable for its violence:

Resolved, That the guilt of this nation is without a parallel in the history of the world; that its career has been marked by crime of the deepest dye, and attained by the blood of its cherished victims; that its religion has enforced and sanctified the blasphemous act of making man the property of man; given to man-stealers and traffickers in human flesh certificates of Christian character and the right hand of fellowship, and persecuted and proscribed the uncompromising friends of the oppressed, as "pestilent and seditious fellows," deserving of universal reprobation; that the Government and laws of the country have been wholly on the side of the oppressor, and moulded accordingly to the will and necessities of the slave-power; and that to this hour, "justice standeth afar off, and truth is fallen in the street, and equity cannot enter; and he that departeth from evil maketh himself a prey."

The progress had a public meeting on the same day, at New-Bedford, WM. WELLS BROWN presiding, and making the principal speech. The resolutions were very stout. The colored brethren expressed their sentiments touching the Dred Scott decision:

Whereas, The recent decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in the Dred Scott case, by which that Court declares that we are not and cannot become, neither can the free colored citizens of any other State become citizens of the United States—is in palpable violation of the 1st section of Article 4th of the Constitution of the United States, which expressly declares—The citizens of each State shall be entitled to all the privileges and immunities of citizens in the several States:

Whereas, We deem the doctrine so ably laid down by Justice CURTIS of Massachusetts, in dissenting from that of Chief Justice TANEY and his associates, to be unimpeachable. 1st. That the free native-born citizens of each State are citizens of the United States. 2d. That as free colored persons born within some of the States are citizens of those States, such persons are also citizens of the United States. 3d. That every such citizen residing in any State, has the right to sue and be sued in the Federal Courts as a citizen of that State in which he resides. [Six or seven other "whereases" are here interposed, and then come the resolutions.]

Resolved, That this reign of terror—this martyr age of colored Americans—demands of them a new baptism of energy for the present and of hope for the future. That we may bide our time—remember that there is a divinity which will shape our ends, roughhew them as the spirit of American Pro-Slavery will—for which we must gird ourselves, and expect accumulating and perplexing trials—and above all, be determined to conquer—for if but faithful, out of this nettle danger we shall yet pluck the flower safety.

Resolved, That we hold the Dred Scott decision to be no more worthy of respect and consideration than though it denied to all the citizens of this Commonweal h the privileges and immunities of citizens of the United States, and declared Massachusetts to be no longer a constituent member of the Union, but ought to be solemnly protested against and resisted to the last extremity by all the people of the State, as an intolerable act of usurpation and tyranny.

The Boston Courier says the exercises closed with a speech from "a benignant and beautiful Quaker lady," who appears to have left a deep impression.

Political Items.

The Hon. Abraham Lincoln has returned a sharp answer to Senator Douglas' letter touching the public discussion in Illinois during the canvass. He says:

"Protesting that your insinuations of attempted unfairness on my part are unjust, and with the hope that you did not very considerately make them, I proceed to reply. To your statement that 'it has been suggested recently that an arrangement had been made to bring out a third candidate for the United States Senate, who, with yourself, should canvass the State in opposition to me,' &c., I can only say that such suggestion must have been made by yourself, for certainly none such has been made by or to me, or otherwise, to my knowledge. Surely, you did not deliberately conclude, as you insinuate, that I was expecting to draw you into an arrangement of terms, to be agreed on by yourself, by which a third candidate and myself, in concert, might be able to take the opening and closing speech in every case."

The Ministerial Crisis in Canada—Why the Ministry Resigned.

The Canadian papers are filled with accounts of the Ministerial overturn. The resolution adopted in the Legislative Assembly on the 28th ult., which upset the Cabinet, was the following, offered by Mr. PIGEON, as an amendment to one proposed by Mr. DUNKIN:

"That it is the opinion of this House that the City of Ottawa ought not to be the permanent Seat of Government for the Province."

At the termination of a long debate the vote was taken on the amendment, with the following result, yeas 64; nays 50.

Upon the decision being announced,

Mr. BROWN rose and claimed the result as an express declaration on the part of the House, of its dissatisfaction with the whole policy of the Government, and he would, therefore, move that the House do now adjourn, with the understanding that all who voted for the adjournment, were to be considered as recording their opinions against the Government; and these in favor of non-adjournment, as expressing their confidence in the Administration.

The Hon. J. A. MACDONALD rose, and on the part of himself and his colleagues, accepted Mr. BROWN'S challenge.

Several members expressed their determination to vote solely on the question that the House do adjourn.

On a division the motion was lost. Yeas 50; nays 61.

At the reassembling of the House on the morning of the 30th,

Attorney-General MACDONALD rose in his place, and said that in consequence of the action of the House on the previous night, the Government deemed it their duty to tender their resignation to his Excellency. Those resignations had been accepted, and the members of the Administration now only held office until their successors were appointed. The Government considered that with respect to the seat of Government, the law of the land was that her Majesty having exercised her prerogative at the request of the Colonial Legislature, the Government had but one course to take, namely: To carry out the law as it stood. No government in a similar position, could avoid taking a like course. The vote of the House on the motion of the honorable member for Berthier, was that the law should not be carried out. It was, moreover, a bare statement that the prerogative of her Majesty, exercised at the request of the Legislature, had been unwisely exercised; that, in short, she had chosen the wrong place. It did not even ask her to reconsider her choice; it did not so much as assign a reason why that choice was erroneous. It simply said, in a manner which was an act of discourtesy and rudeness toward her Majesty, that her Majesty was wrong. Besides, there was another consideration. The House had declared that the decision should not be carried out, so that their future course should be guided by that vote. The law had declared that Ottawa was to be the seat of Government. The House declared differently. They should then either commit a breach of the law, or go against the unmistakable majority of the House—fourteen, he believed. They considered the usefulness of the Government would have been much impaired by this. They were the more inclined to take this course, because many honorable members, who usually supported the Government, acted differently and took a view strongly in opposition to her Majesty's selection, although no other place more fit to be the seat of Government was in any way pointed out. They had, therefore, no other course but to resign, although there was a subsequent motion, which, by the action of the honorable member from Toronto who leads the opposition, was made as one of non-confidence, and on which the Government had a majority. Yet some honorable gentlemen had voted against them on whom they had previously relied; and therefore, in view of all these circumstances, the Government has done what they thought was due to themselves.

Personal.

Galignani, noticing the fact that Mr. Barnum had passed through Paris, on his way to Baden, where he proposed to exhibit Gen. Tom Thumb, tells this story of the little "General:" The General has now attained his 21st year, and though "in mind a man," is "in bulk less than a baby still." It is told of him that in a recent angry discussion with his mother, in whose favor he had previously made his will, the dame menaced his little person with a flogging unless he complied with her wishes. But Tom, notwithstanding, continued to hold out, until finding himself suspended in mid-air in one hand, and the birch ready to be applied in the other, he roared out at the top of his infantine voice, "Mind what you are about, mother; if you hit me I'll change my will, you may depend on it," and the birch, as by enchantment, fell harmless from the uplifted hand.

The following missionaries have sailed from Boston, per bark Henry Hill, for Malta and Symrna: The Rev. Dr. E. Riggs, Mrs. E. Riggs, Misses Elizabeth Riggs, Margaret Riggs, Emma Riggs, Messrs. Edward Riggs, James Riggs, Charles Riggs, the Rev. Daniel Ladd, Mrs. Daniel Ladd, Miss C. K. Ladd, Mr. H. M. Ladd, Miss Mary Loveland, and the Rev. T. L. Ambrose.

The Hon. Jacob Thompson, Secretary of the Interior; the Hon. Aaron V. Brown, Postmaster-General; and the Hon. Wm. T. Avery, M. C., were in Memphis on the 27th ult; the Hon. John Slidell United States Senator from Louisiana, was in Chicago on the 20th ult.

Barnum, it is asserted, is engaged to give a series of lectures the ensuing Winter in London, on "Humbug, Money-getting and Money-losing," three subjects he has perhaps studied more intently than any man living, and likely to become highly popular

The Rev. H. N. Hudson, of New-York, the well-known critic and lecturer, has accepted the rectorship of St. Michael's Church, Litchfield, and entered upon the discharge of his duties.

Mrs. John Wood, the actress, has commenced a suit in San Francisco, against her husband for divorce, on the ground of his intemperance and ill-treatment of her.

Letters have been received in Buffalo from Bishop Timon, who had arrived in Paris after a visit to Rome. The Bishop writes that he was very graciously received by His Holiness.

A pension of £100 has been bestowed upon Mr. Wm. Rathorigh Cooley, the geographer.

Obituary.

The death of Mrs. Loudon, the authoress, is announced. She was the widow of John Claudius Loudon, author of the Agricultural Encyclopedia. The lady herself wrote The Mummy, a novel, published in 1827; The Lady's Flower Garden, The Lady's Country Companion, Gardening for Ladies, and The Lady's Companion to the Flower Garden. Mrs. Loudon enjoyed a pension of £100 per annum from the civil list.

Thomas Cannon, the once celebrated pugilist and ex-champion of England, (under the name of the "Windsor Cannon,") a few days since put a period to his existence by shooting himself through the head, under circumstances of great destitution and misery.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 20, 1860.

GENTLEMEN: Having my attention called a few months since to the high and beneficial effects of your hair restorative, I was induced to make application of it upon my own head, which was becoming quite gray, prematurely one-half white; and, to my astonishment and gratification, in a few weeks I discovered a change of color in my hair, which was becoming gray, to its original color. I have used no other article with anything like the same pleasure or profit. Yours truly,

E. BRAG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz., large, medium and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for $1 per bottle; the medium holds at least one pint per bottle; the large holds a quart, forty per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $2 a bottle.

For sale by PROF. WOOD & CO., Proprietors, No. 312 Broadway, New York, (in the great New-York Hair Dressing Establishment,) and No. 114 Market-st., St. Louis, Mo.

"NOTHING TO WEAR."

"Look through the world which all about you lies,
The noisy town, the commons, daisy lits,
The hedge-rows starred with white and yellow stars,
The tree-tufted crests, the dens of wild beasts,
The gilded halls where pride and fashion flaunt,
And from their mingled threads the years, the DAY,
Weave, if you will, the coats of no-day."

LOAN OF $1,400,000—HANNIBAL AND ST. JOSEPH RAILROAD BONDS.—The Hannibal and St. Joseph Railroad Company will, until Saturday, the 14th day of August next, at noon, receive at the office of the Company, in Hannibal, sealed proposals for the purchase of $1,400,000 of their Land Bonds, in sums of $1,000 each.
A statement of the condition of the Company is in preparation, by which it will be apparent that the sale of these bonds will, with the other available resources of the Company, afford sufficient means to open the road through early next spring.
The bonds are issued for the balance of the issue of $2,000,000, secured by a first mortgage to Wm. H. Swift, Isaac Bronson and Nathaniel Thayer, Trustees, upon the lands granted to the Company, and are payable in twenty years from April 1, 1856, with interest, semi-annually, at 7 per cent per annum.
The successful bidder will receive a certificate, giving him the optional right to take, at any time within one year after the same run through from Hannibal to St. Joseph an equal amount in the stock of the Company, payable in instalments as follows: 25 per share upon election to take the stock and receiving the certificate of option, and not over $25 per share during any six months thereafter.
All instalments will be receivable in any of the Land Bonds of the Company now offered, with proper adjustment of interest.
Five per cent upon each subscription to the loan will be payable on the 15th day of August next, and will be received as security, without paying interest therefor, until the whole subscription is paid up.
Five per cent on the 15th of September.
Five per cent on the 15th of October.
Five per cent. on the 15th of November.
Five per cent on the 15th of December.
Five per cent. on the 15th of January.
Upon the payment of each of the first, bonds will be issued, with proper adjustment of interest, when payments are made; or payments may be made earlier, by notifying the Treasurer of the Fiscal Agency thereof, at the time the first payment is made.
The proceeds of the sales of the one-acre acres of land of the Company is appropriated, as fast as received, to the redemption of the bonds, at par, by lot, and the bonds are receivable, as made, in payment for the lands of the Company.
From the above conditions the Loan will be awarded to the highest responsible bidders, the Company reserving to themselves the right to consider the responsibility of the parties making the proposals, as well as the rate offered.
JOHN M. KEMPER,
Treasurer of the Fiscal Agency,
No. 45 City Exchange, Boston, Mass.

OFFICE NEW-YORK AND ERIE RAILROAD CO., }
NEW-YORK, June 21, 1858. }
THE NEW-YORK AND ERIE RAILROAD Company have earnestly endeavored during the past ten months to establish and maintain uniform and remunerative rates of traffic by the four great lines which connect the Atlantic cities and the West. Having failed in this, and believing that by individual action and improper influence traffic by the lines of free passes, by the employment of runners and solicitors or by any other unauthorized means, the Company, rather than resort to such means, have determined so reduce the fares, on and after Monday next, 14th inst., as follows: between
New-York and Dunkirk: to.....$6 10
New-York and Buffalo, to.....5 00
New-York and Niagara Falls, or Suspension Bridge, to.....5 00

Brooklyn Items.

THE POLICE DEPARTMENT.—The Deputy Superintendent of Police makes the following report for the quarter ending July 31: Whole number of arrests 5,449, being an increase of 1,002 over the number arrested during the quarter immediately preceding. These arrests were made in the different Precincts, as follows: First Precinct, 482; Second Precinct, 653; Third Precinct, 973; Fourth Precinct, 603; Fifth Precinct, 661; Sixth Precinct, 620; Seventh Precinct, 106; Eighth Precinct, 100; Ninth Precinct, 134.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.—A regular meeting of this Board was held last evening, President SIMIS in the Chair. Considerable routine business was transacted. The only matter of general interest was accepting the report of a Committee in favor of establishing a school forthwith on Red Hook Point. Acts were here presented from a committee of the Board, the Committee say the place "swarms" with children, who have now no school accommodations.

THE PECK-SLIP FERRY.—An important meeting of citizens of the Eastern District, Brooklyn, will be held at Washington Hall, corner of Fourth and South Seventh streets, this evening, at 8 o'clock. The object of it is to urge the continuance of the Peck-slip ferry from the foot of South Seventh street, and to discuss other matters of interest to the property-owners and residents of that vicinity.

FATAL ACCIDENTS.—Two Germans, named JOHN FIELDHOUSE and CHRISTIAN SCHILDMAN, died, yesterday, from the effect of burns received in FINLEY & WHEATLEY'S Sugar Refinery on Water-street, Monday last. The accident was caused by attempting to screw on the lid to the man hole on the filter with a hammer instead of a wrench, when it flew off and the deceased were burnt by the steam. FIELDHOUSE resided at No. 44 Water-street, and leaves a family.

JOHN MYERS, driver of a soda-water wagon, was instantly killed, Monday evening, at the corner of De Kalb and Nostrand avenues. He attempted to get into the wagon when the horses started and the wheels passed over him.

A small child, whose parents reside in Gothic-Hall alley, died, yesterday, from injuries received on Tuesday, by falling from his mother's arms in the street.

BOARD OF EXCISE.—This Board held a final meeting yesterday. They granted in all about a hundred Licenses.

MONDAY, Aug. 2—P. M.

The favorite steamship Persia, from Liverpool Saturday, July 24, arrived here early in the forenoon, with advices one day later than by the telegraph from Cape Race, and with full mails of the week ending July 24 from all parts of Europe. The financial advices show an improvement of ¼@½ ℔ cent. in the English Funds, which on the last day (as telegraphed from London to Liverpool) stood 96½ ℔ cent. ex dividend, the market firm. In the Discount market, lenders had reduced their terms to 2½ ℔ cent. ℔ annum, which brought some business at the close of the week. The English Bank had not changed the rate from 3 ℔ cent., but was getting little or no new business. The Bullion in the Bank had increased $1,570,000. In American Stocks, Messrs. BARING report of State Securities:

"A few United States Bonds, 1868, have been placed at 103, and at that price there would probably be buyers for more. Some Pennsylvania Central Railroad Bonds, 1st mortgage, have here been sold at 89 @90, and of 2d mortgage, at 69. Illinois Central shares have been placed at 28 discount. Some Massachusetts sterling 5s Bonds are offered at 103. Maryland sterling, 92@94, none offered. Pennsylvania Bonds 83; Inscriptions 77@77½, both ex dividend. Virginia dollar and sterling 82@84."

And Mr. E. F. SATTERTHWAITE reports of Railway Bonds and Shares:

"We have had an improved market for American Railroad Securities, especially for Bonds; many lots which have recently been pressing on the market have been cleared off, and some withdrawn; the demand is chiefly for those of best description, where Coupons are regularly paid. There had been considerable transactions in Illinois shares, at prices ranging from 26@26 dis."

Another meeting of the English holders of Illinois Central had been held in London, July 22, at which the following proceedings were had:

"That a permanent Committee of the European shareholders in the Illinois Central Railroad Company be appointed for the purpose of affording to the shareholders and bondholders of the Company greater facilities for communicating with each other, and for promoting a more frequent interchange of news and information between them and the Board of Directors in the United States, and for such other purposes as may be deemed advisable. That the following gentlemen form the said Committee, with power to add to their number: Mr. Moffatt, M. P., Chairman; Mr. Thomas Smith, Mr. Cropper, Mr. Richard Cobden, Mr. Wheeler, Mr. Chas. Paget, M. P., Mr. Goldschmidt, Mr. Reed, Mr. Charles Waring, Sir Joseph Paxton, M.P., Mr. George Baird, Mr. Ellis, Mr. Wm. Gladstone.

Proposed by the Chairman, seconded by Mr. WM. REED, and carried unanimously: That the books and accounts of the Illinois Central Railroad Company be (in addition to the regular system of check and audit pursued within the several departments of the Company) annually audited, examined, and reported upon, by two competent individuals, assisted, if needful, by a professed accountant, one of whom shall be appointed by the shareholders resident within the United States, and the other appointed by the shareholders resident beyond the limits of the United States, which latter appointment shall be made by the London Committee.

Proposed by the Chairman, seconded and carried unanimously: That the Committee be requested to appoint a deputation from the European shareholders in this Company to proceed to the United States to establish such arrangements with the Board of Directors in New-York as will prevent any future calls being made, or money raised upon the credit of the Company, without the previous knowledge and concurrence of the Committee now appointed, and to make such other arrangements with the Board of Directors as they may deem conducive to the interests of the Company.

Proposed by Mr. BRAITHWAITE, seconded by Mr. AUSTIN: That the deputation be instructed to represent to the directors that the shareholders present at this meeting consider that the railway being completed and furnished with a rolling stock sufficient for a largely-increased traffic, and that the call of $20 will relieve the company from its floating debt; and that the lands and other property of the company are much more than sufficient to satisfy the mortgage and other liabilities; no further addition to the present estimated expenditure should be incurred without the concurrence of the London Committee; and that it will be the duty of the deputation to concert with the directors of the company the best means of giving effect to this unanimous declaration of opinion."

The London Times, after giving the history of the Illinois Central enterprise from its inception down to the misfortunes which overtook it last Fall in the money crisis, and this Spring by the Western floods, and tracing the foundations of the market-value of the shares, thus concludes:

"Hence an accumulation of misfortunes has fallen just at the moment when every man who may have already paid up £10,000 to the Company is called upon to supply £8,000 more, and the inconvenience occasioned, and its consequent effect on the market may easily be conceived. Yet, unless some extraordinary mistakes or deceptions have to be brought to light, the ultimate promise to all concerned is little short of that which was held out at starting. But gross casualties now pressing are mainly of an accidental and temporary character, and those who are familiar with the changes which a few years will effect on a line of railway through such a State as Illinois can still scarcely hesitate to indulge great anticipations as to the property, which hardly anything but gross dishonesty can disappoint. At all events, if this work proves to be a delusion, the fact must be held established that under no conceivable circumstances can American Railways be made to pay, and the benefit will have been attained of putting an end to all further losses in connection with them. Upon its results, therefore, interests of wider scope depend than could attach to the ordinary proceedings of a single undertaking, however large. Its history will thus be watched by English investors, and it may be hoped some further developments will soon be arrived at. The adjourned meeting has been held at the London Tavern, at which it has been resolved to appoint a permanent Executive Committee, and also to endeavor to make provision for a regular audit as New-York on behalf of the European shareholders. It has likewise been determined that a deputation of shareholders should proceed to New-York to represent the Company being pledged to further expenditure without the previous concurrence of the London Committee; and, finally, a general opinion was expressed that the railway is now in a condition in which, after the payment of the call of 20 per cent. about to fall due, no more money should be required.

The Cotton trade at Liverpool for the week the Persia sailed sums up 44,590 bales, at a slight concession in price, and at Manchester the business was quiet at previous rates. Grain and Flour, as by the telegraph from Cape Race, are quoted dull, and the imports of foreign on the increase. We understand that the private letters are somewhat contradictory as to the look and probable yield of the English harvest, though the weather was generally fine. The Rye crop on the Continent is reported short.

We remark a close parallel in Money affairs here and in London. The improved employment of capital, whatever it promised at the close of July, does not hold general. The demand at bank, we find on further inquiry, is partial and irregular. A number of the large commercial banks, on their statement published this morning, fall off in their discount line. The Bill Brokers, to-day, also report the offering of first-class paper as behind the disposition of lenders to discount at low rates. The terms take a wider range, perhaps, than earlier in the Summer, on bills having over 60 days to run, but within this time business was done to-day as low as 3 ℔ cent. The same rate is made to Brokers on the hypothecation of Treasury Bills, and on other collateral at from 4 to 6 ℔ cent. The importers are doing more in Dry Goods this week, but most of them seem full-handed in money, notwithstanding the free payments into the Custom-House. The business in Exchange for the America was partially improved to-day by the extra demand on account of the Pennsylvania State interest, paid in Philadelphia yesterday. Most of the sales were at 109¾@¾ for mercantile, and 109¾ ℔ cent. for bank bills on London. The Bullion brokers put up about $260,000 in gold bars, and one of the correspondents of Messrs. BARING ships about the same amount in Double Eagles, making altogether, half a million dollars. There was only the ordinary trade demand for French bills at 5 francs 12½ centimes to the dollar. The Philadelphia Bank Statement, to-day, shows a further accumulation of Specie at that point. The same tendency is felt at New-Orleans. The Boston Banks are still debtor to New-York, but seem to lose very moderate sums of Specie in consequence.

There was an irregular and unsettled market for Stocks at both sessions of the Board of Brokers. The final closing, however, shows some steadiness at improving prices compared with the average sales of the day. The chief activity was in Reading, which, closing yesterday at 81½, opened at 81½, sold down to 80½ cash, and 49½ seller 60 days, and again reached to 80½ ℔ cent. at the close of dealings in the afternoon. Rock Island further declined, the very lowest being 75½, seller 60 days, after which 77 was paid cash, and then 76¾ cash and 76½, seller 30 days, at which there were good buyers in the afternoon. The other Western shares sympathized to the extent of ¼@1 ℔ cent. from yesterday's prices, with a good many sellers of Michigan Southern. In New-York Central the sales were less than 200 shares at the early Board. In the afternoon 600 shares were taken at 84¾ for the reopening of the transfers. Panama further advanced to 115¼@115½, closing 114½@115 ℔ cent. Pacific Mail receded to 82 ℔ cent, making, altogether, a fall of 9 ℔ cent. from last week. At the close buyers appeared at 83½ ℔ cent. Illinois Central Bonds were firm at 88 @88½ ℔ cent. There was nothing done in the Shares. The State Stocks were all steady. The Committee of the Board of Brokers exonerated the Directors of the La Crosse Company from fraudulent intent in advertising and then failing to pay the August Coupons on the Land Grant Bonds, and the Bonds consequently continue on the official list.

We understand the election for Directors of the Cleveland, Painesville and Ashtabula Road takes place this day week, Aug. 10, instead of the 18th, as stated in our first notice. The proxies, therefore, should go forward immediately, to Mr. AMASA STONE, Jr., or such other party in Cleveland as the stockholder may select.

The Interest on all the Bonds of the Chicago and Milwaukee Railroad Company is payable at Bank of Republic. A portion of the last issue of Second-mortgage Bonds, 10 ℔ cent., are now on private sale with C. KOWALSKI, No. 22 William-street.

The Manhattan Company's Bank has made and declared the usual half-yearly dividend of 5 ℔ cent. And the old New-York Life and Trust Company have also made their regular half-yearly dividend of 5 ℔ cent.

Messrs G. L. MAXWELL (of the Stock Exchange) and JAMES DARE have opened an office at No. 50 Exchange-place, under the style of MAXWELL & DARE, Stock Brokers. See card in advertising column.

The Irving Fire Insurance Company has declared a semi-annual dividend of 7 ℔ cent., payable on demand. The Ocean Bank, a semi-annual dividend of 3½ ℔ cent., payable on the 10th inst. The Peoria and Bureau Valley Railroad, a dividend of 4 ℔ cent., payable on the 10th inst. The Third-avenue Railroad, a quarterly dividend of 2 ℔ cent., payable on the 11th inst. The City Fire Insurance Company, a dividend of ten dollars ℔ share, payable on the 10th inst.

The Boston Post of this morning, in its Weekly Review of Finance and Business in Boston, remarks:

"Some of the brokers report a slightly increased demand for money, but in other channels the market seems to have gained in ease and abundance. Upon the whole, there is no change worth speaking of. The banks continue to lend on call at 6 ℔ cent. Recent transactions in business and stock have increased the quantity of grocers' paper, in the street, and thereby have advanced the rate on this class of paper, say 1 ℔ cent. The greater part of banking business continues to be done at 6 ℔ cent. We quote the best paper offered at 6¾ to 8, although there are outside and peculiar negotiations at lower prices. The bank specie has again reached nine millions. Boston is heavily in debt to New-York. The very best sterling exchange drawn to order has ruled firm at 9¾, with a tendency that is upward, but of no marked vigor. The business for the last steamer was moderate. Very prime drawn bills were taken at 9¾."

BANKING AND FINANCIAL ADVERTISEMENTS

☞ THE LITCHFIELD BANK, WHICH SUSpended its redemptions in this City a few weeks since, we observe now redeems at the Suffolk Bank, Boston.

Money Circular for the Country.

NEW-YORK, Tuesday, Aug. 3—Noon.

The business of the past week in Money has been characterized by increased payments, on account of Custom-House duties, into the Sub-Treasury. The demand for this object and for other preparations by the importers for the Fall trade, without being felt on the price of Money, has enabled some of the Banks to add to their mercantile discounts. As the disbursements of the Government at this point keep pace with the Revenue receipts referred to, the Sub-Treasury gains but little Specie, while the Banks have added $106,864 to their previous average. The unemployed deposits in Bank have gone up still more considerably. It is probable that the specie maximum in Bank has been reached, for the season, though not the stock of Specie in the City. After Monday next the division will be more liberal to the Sub-Treasury, at least for a month or six weeks, as the greater portion of the new Ten Million Loan will probably be paid in at New-York. As touching the rates of premium at which this Loan is likely to be awarded, there is much interest felt on the street, with of course no inconsiderable diversity of opinion. The stock is in coupon shape, in round $1,000, payable to order, to assigns or to bearer, at the option of the holder, and to run fifteen years, unless sooner bought up by the Government, which, in the case of a similar Stock issued to the State of Texas in 1850, was done by the Secretary of the Treasury at the rate of 110 ℔ cent. We continue to quote Money at call, on choice collateral, such as Treasury Bills and State Stocks, at 3@4 ℔ cent.; other fair collateral at from 4 to 6 ℔ cent. Discounts are had on short paper, strictly first class, at 4@5 ℔ cent., and on fair bills at from 5 to 7 ℔ cent. Exchange for the English steamer to-morrow, is selling at 109¾ ℔ cent. The export demand for Bullion is moderate, falling below the current receipts from California. Should the New Loan be taken in whole or in good part for foreign parties, the effect will be to reduce exchange something below the Specie standard. The Stock Exchange dealings, for a day or two after our last weekly report, were rather spirited than otherwise, and at higher prices. But, after Thursday, the market relapsed into a tame feeling, resulting in weaker bids for most of the Western Stocks and for New-York Central and Erie. The business done in all these, yesterday and to-day, is unusually light, and but for a very buoyant, and, to all present appearances, strong movement in Panama and Reading shares, we should have to report a dull state of things throughout the list. The additional advance in Panama is 5½ ℔ cent., carrying up the price on the sales this morning to 115¾ ℔ cent. The extreme advance in Reading was to 81¾ ℔ cent., from which the price subsequently receded to 80¾ ℔ cent. cash. The transactions in the Stock on time have also been large. At the close of the first Board to-day, the details of the Persia's news from England to July 24, were made public. These report an advance in Consols to 96 ℔ cent.; a rise of $1,570,000 in the Bullion of the Bank of England, and a decline in the London discount market to 2¾ ℔ cent. ℔ annum. In American Stocks a little more business is reported.

Edward Bill's Flour and Grain Circular.

Per America. NEW-YORK, Saturday, Aug. 3, 1858.

The tone of the Flour market was materially changed a day or two after the date of my circular of July 20, by a break in the Erie Canal. The receipts were suspended for several days, and prices advanced 10c.@20c. ℔ bbl. Since then, the supplies have largely increased, and the trade has been somewhat irregular, but generally buoyant—closing, however, rather tamely, but showing an improvement in the fortnight of 25c.@30c. ℔ bbl., on almost all descriptions of fresh ground. Southern kinds of the old crop are quite scarce. The new is coming forward slowly, and at increased rates. Good brands of Ohio are in favor, and are taking the place of Southern for shipment to the West Indies. For export there is a fair demand, but the English orders are mostly limited below the present quotations. For the Mediterranean ports some inquiry still exists, and a few small orders for France. Corn Meal has advanced 30c.@40c. ℔ bbl. There are no new features in regard to WHEAT. The supplies of Spring are nearly all out of condition, and are chiefly used for feeding and distilling purposes, 80c.@90c. ℔ 60 lbs., while a few parcels are worth 95c.@$1; Western Red (Winter) being in better order, is in demand at $1 10@$1 12. Of White, there is but little prime old, (Western, including Canadian,) ranging at $1 10@$1 20. The new Southern comes forward slowly, and readily demands $1 30@$1 32 for Red, and $1 40@$1 50 for White—it is wanted by the City millers. Conflicting statements are daily received as to the appearance and prospects of the new crop throughout the grain, growing States. An average is now all that is expected, and there is strong ground to believe that the yield will be rather less. RYE has improved in value, and one or two sales made for export. INDIAN CORN of sound quality is scarce and wanted, and prices are much higher. Nearly all the Western mixed arriving is of such quality as to bring 66c.@75c. for distilling use, that in better condition at 85c.@95c., whilst fine Yellow and White bring $1 03@$1 08.

FREIGHTS.—The trade being quiet, the rates are a trifle lower. To Liverpool, 1s. 7½d.@1s. 9d. ℔ bbl. on Flour, and 5d.@5½d. ℔ bushel on Grain. To London (nominal) 2s. 3d.@2s. 6d. on Flour, and 7d. on Grain. To Glasgow, 2s.@2s. 3d. on Flour, and 6d.@7d. on Grain.

The Stock Board and the La Crosse Company.

To the New-York Stock Exchange:

The committee appointed to report to your board "what action, if any, it may be necessary to take, in view of the recent default of payment of interest upon the Land Grant Bonds of the La Crosse and Milwaukee Railroad Company, after an official notice that such interest would be paid," respectfully report, that after a careful investigation of the causes that led to so unprecedented a course as that of the Directors of the La Crosse and Milwaukee Railroad Company in advertising the payment, and the subsequent non-payment of interest, they have arrived at the following conclusions:

That the La Crosse Company was not in funds to pay said interest from the income of the road; but that in anticipation of the early completion of the road to La Crosse City, from which time the estimated receipts were confidently expected to pay the interest upon all the indebtedness of the Company, the directors had undertaken to borrow $140,000 for the purpose of paying interest upon four millions of land grant bonds, being the amount issued. That it appeared in evidence before your committee that certain parties, including some of the directors, had agreed to pay, and did actually subscribe $90,000, in sums varying from $10 to $3,500, towards such interest, and that the balance of $50,000 was agreed to be advanced by a capitalist of a neighboring city, not a director of the Company. That the parties thus subscribing were to be secured by third mortgage bonds of the Company, and by assignment of the coupons so to be paid. That about the time of the consummation of this agreement, many holders of these bonds were daily making inquiry at the office of the Company, as to the possibility of payment of interest, and were urgent that the officers should advertise as early as possible that the interest would be paid, in the expectation that this would arrest the decline in prices, as well as give greater currency to the bonds as a negotiable security. That influenced by these considerations, the directors, as soon as they felt assured that the interest fund was subscribed, did, in good faith, direct the advertisement of the intention to pay to be published.

That subsequent to such publication, the party agreeing to advance the balance of $50,000 as above stated, was induced by various considerations to recede from his subscription; among which considerations the following are put forward:

1. The continued refusal of the Governor of Wisconsin to give the certificate by which the land grant would attach to this road. 2. Legal opinions that it was doubtful if the security accompanying the bonds would, in any degree, accompany the coupon when assigned, and 3. The great depreciation in the bonds of the company, rendering unavailable the third mortgage bonds proposed to be issued to the parties advancing these moneys. It is here proper to state that some of the directors share in the opinion so generally entertained, that parties interested in a decline in the price of the bonds may, by secret means, have contributed to produce this result. But it is apparent that, if such sinister influence was exerted, it is not easily susceptible of proof, nor was any evidence to this effect produced to your Committee.

Your Committee have also examined into the reason for the peculiar wording of the advertisement of the intention to pay interest, but are satisfied that it was owing to legal advice, that the embarrassed condition of the company would render dangerous a notice that the interest would be paid by the company.

Your Committee desire to bear testimony to the frank and manly way in which their investigation has been met by the officers and directors of the Company, several of whom promptly met your Committee and gave them such explanations as they saw fit to require; and while they cannot but deem the course of the directors censurable in advertising the payment before the money had been paid in to their disbursing officer, or to a Committee of the subscribers to the loan, yet they fully exonerate them from any intentional deception, and believe that they directed the notice of payment to be made public in good faith, and with a view to the advantage of their bondholders.

It may be of interest to the Board to know that your Committee are assured that the land grant bonds have all been issued, and the loan is full at $4,000,000.

In conclusion, your Committee can see no necessity or propriety in any further action on the part of the Stock Exchange, and respectfully request to be discharged.

C. E. MARVIN,
EDWARD WHITEHOUSE.

Real Estate...TUESDAY, Aug 3.

The work that has for some time past been so rapidly progressing in the Central Park has awakened, as we have heretofore reported, a degree of inquiry for lots in its vicinity. We have reported, however, for sale by public auction, directly on the Park, either in Fifty-third-street, the southern boundary, or on Fifth or Eighth avenues, opposite the Park. And never have lots been offered which, as a class, have more favorably commended themselves to buyers. In the latter case a man finds his own opinion confirmed by the bid of some well known judges of real estate. Indeed, he will often pay a price for property after the sale has commenced that he would not have thought of paying before. He thinks if Mr. B., or Mr. P., or Mr. S. is willing to pay so much, it is certainly safe for him to pay a little more, for it is acknowledged that B., P., and S. never pay within 10 ℔ cent. of what property is really worth. In this way the bidding goes on lively, competition is spirited, and the property brings its full fair value. But not so in non-compulsory sales. The B's, and the P's, and S's, are either not present at the sale, or, if they are, not bidding. Private opinion is no longer strengthened by the comparative judgment of experts, acquaintances and friends. Confidence yields, and no one but Peter and his fellows presume to bid.

The effect of this is well nigh destructive to the business of real estate auctioneers. The public, finding that the auctioneer is not successful in selling property at auction, resorts to the real estate broker, has its property duly entered on his books, and sells it at private sale at a much better price than could be got at auction. If it were an established fact, invariable, well known, and acknowledged, that every piece of property put up at auction was sold, paid for and actually changed hands, and that too on the very day and hour it was advertised to be sold, without failure, humbug or subterfuge, it would ruin nine-tenths of all the real est
